CHARISTIA Communion Wafers and are baked in accordance with the Canonical Law (Canon 924 & 2), the current Liturgical Law and traditional Roman Catholic way-from pure wheat flour and water, with no additives or preservatives in an exceptionally clean and modern automated facility. Production complies with the HACCP quality system. Charistia guarantee fresh and high quality products, straight from the bakery, packed minutes after baking and untouched by human hands, at highly attractive price. Charistia communion wafers and hosts simply melt in a mouth and our loyal customers are appreciative of their taste.

CHARISTIA is a Polish family-run bakery business founded in the 70-ies. They produce high quality communion wafers and hosts using wheat flour, rye flour and low-gluten flour. In the 80-ties Charistia developed a new kind of liturgical bread: communion wafers and hosts with a cross sign on both sides.

Charistia bakery is still situated in the same place where it was first founded over 40 years ago. Today, the bakery is modern and prosperous. Company have a current permission from our local Diocese Bishop to sell communion wafers and hosts to serve the Holy Mass.
